GOD conceived the world,
That was poetry,
He formed it, that was sculpture,
He colored it, that was painting,
He peopled it with living beings,
That was the grand divine Eternal drama . . .

FLORIDA SOUTHERN COLLEGE
LAKELAND, FLORIDA

POETRY . . . the harmony of the created universe . . . silent . . .
 subdued . . . expressed at Southern in the promises of each new day . . .
 the stillness of a leaf . . . a quiet walkway . . . the miracle of discovery, as a student attempts to preserve a fleeting moment . . . all pieces of a pattern begun and ending in eternity . . .

SCULPTURE . . . *modern . . .
moving . . . molding God's creation to man's needs . . . portraying changing patterns in an inconstant world . . . yet, clinging to that which is permanent . . .

Above: The esplanades form patterns against the sky. Left: Shadows soften the sharp angles of sculpture.

COLOR . . . vital . . . vivid . . .
intense . . . the glow of night . . .
the sparkle of day . . . the brilliance of flowers . . . Southern's campus contrasted with the clear blue sky . . . gold . . . violet . . .
rose . . . green . . . shining . . .
giving life to the living . . .

Right: Colorful flowers against an Esplanade. Below:
The lights of Branscomb Memorial Auditorium at night.

COLOR . . . contrasting . . .
contributing . . . creating . . . an invisible artist . . . a paintbrush in the hand of an unseen power . . .

Upper left: Lights burning late in the E. T. Roux Library.
Lower left: The stars and stripes wave over a converging campus. Right: Looking up at the planetarium from the President's garden. Below: Annie Pfeiffer Chapel will forever remain the landmark of Florida Southern College.

PEOPLE . . . personalities . . .
the power of a crowd sweeping you up in its excitement . . . a feeling of belonging . . . the group . . . a friend . . . someone close who means much . . . all laughing . . . loving . . .
living . . .

So it is the students and faculty who turn a campus into a college. They are the spirit at a ball game, the laughter at a dance, the warmth of friendship, the life of the school.

The amazing camera catches momentary expressions that others rarely note. The joy of friendship, a far-away look, a serious look—all are evidences of a self that is deep and unknown.

INDIVIDUALS . . . alone . . . in a crowd . . . each is unique . . .
exhibiting a personality all his own . . . a reason for living . . . a dream for life . . . countless persons drawn together . . . all thinking
. . . seeking . . . searching . . .

ACTIVE . . . alert . . . caught up in the activities of a busy day . . .
much yet to accomplish . . .
seeking knowledge . . . companionship
. . . fulfillment . . . truth . . .

Above: Students pause between classes on the steps of Allan Spivey Hall. Right: The quest for answers is a constant effort in the chemistry lab.

Working with a teacher over a difficult part in a play, practicing an instrument until satisfaction is reached, relaxing with friends in a game of bridge—all are part of a day at FSC.

EXPERIENCES . . . opportunities . . . moments lived to their fullest . . . the walkway . . .
a classroom . . . a conversation
. . . the college year . . .

THE YEAR begins . . . new faces . . . personalities
. . . experiencing . . . living . . . feeling . . .
the emotion of a moment . . . a tear . . . a smile
. . . quickly gone . . . then a reality . . .
now confused memories . . . blending into the whole . . . this is what was . . .

ONE OF THE CROWD . . . *sharing the enthusiasms of campus sports . . .
those first important meetings . . . a new life founded on social as well as academic levels . . . the beginning of friendships and loyalties . . .*

There is nothing more fascinating than the many and varied expressions in a crowd. Although massed together, each face shows a thought, a feeling all its own.

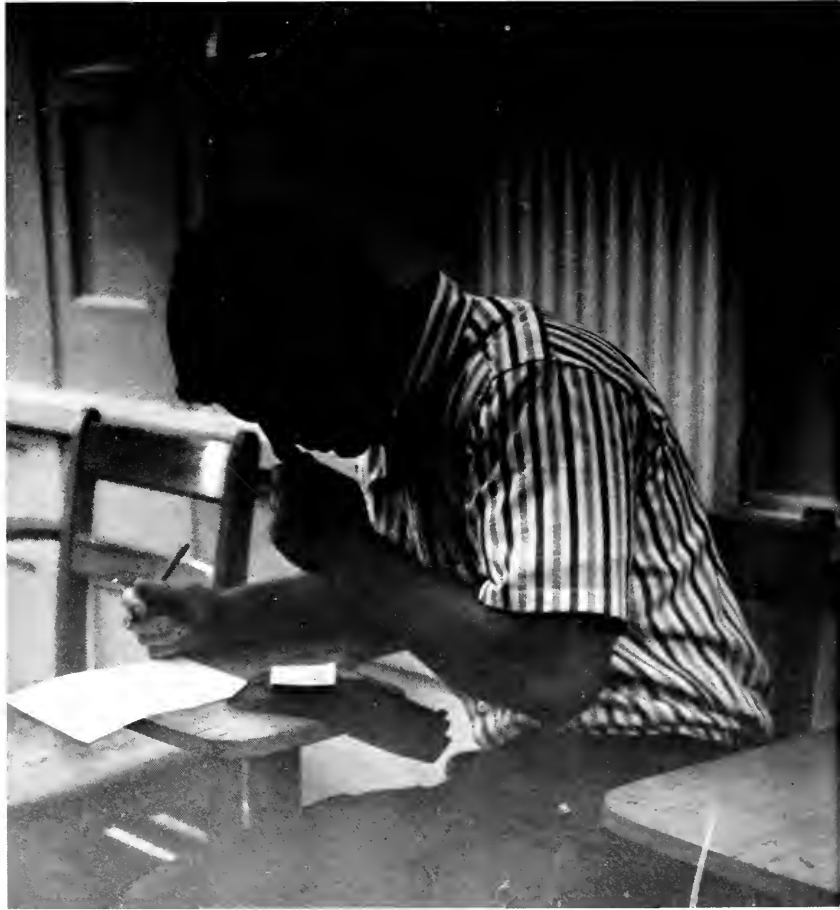

WONDER . . . awe . . . fascination . . . perplexity . . . new horizons . . . the bewilderment of unfamiliar surroundings . . . a question without an answer . . . orientation . . . becoming an individual . . . a breathless sigh . . . the mystery of it all . . .

Receiving lines, more introductions, names to remember, and stilted conversations comprise the collegiate world in which the freshman suddenly finds himself.

Placement tests and picking up class cards are part of an involved but organized operation.

ADJUSTMENT . . . *those first steps . . .
through registration . . . picture taking . . . placement tests . . . explanations and examinations . . . finding classrooms . . . IBM cards . . .*

UNCERTAINTY . . . uneasiness . . .
the tough sophomore . . . a tense moment . . . a foggy memory in an exam . . . making the right impression during rush . . . the need to be accepted . . .

So much of college life is a question mark surrounded by doubt. Examination week, rush parties, that necessary decision.

DISCOVERY . . . awakening . . . a sudden glimpse . . . that much sought after answer . . . the end of a search . . . the brink of new knowledge . . . philosophies . . . all revealing . . .

Finding the solution after hours of effort, whether in the chemistry lab or the outside world, is the rewarding moment in the academic life.

ENJOYMENT . . . fun . . . laughter
. . . a good joke . . . amusement . . .
carefree moments . . . a harmless prank . . .

It is the light and happy experiences, although not always remembered, that erase passing worries and lend cheerfulness to each day. Laughter is truly contagious on Southern's friendly campus.

Left: Working together can be as much fun as playing together, as shown in this scene from a sorority skit at the annual Bermuda Party.

College means continuous competition, as students endeavor to excel, whether it be in the classroom, on the court, or in a beauty contest. Nerve-racking as it may be, the fear of failure or loss is always motivating.

TENSION . . . worry . . . frustration . . .
annoyance . . . the last sixty seconds of a game . . . an exam grade . . . late for an appointment . . . a term paper due . . . a feeling of helplessness . . .

Right: Basketball coach Tom Greene watches anxiously as his Mocs attempt to control the ball in a close game.

SADNESS . . . depression . . . dismay
... a failing grade . . . a hopeless game
... unsurmountable odds . . . discouragement . . . gloom . . . but it passes . . .

Every day has its disappointments which must be overcome and forgotten, if one is to continue toward a distant goal. Faculty wives feel it, too. (Below).

ESCAPE . . . a well-timed vacation period . . . back to nature . . . coke and coffee time with friends . . . an all-campus dance . . . to the upbeat of "Let's Get Away From it All" . . .

While students head home for the vacation, the faculty finds its enjoyments on the nearby lakes, canoeing and fishing.

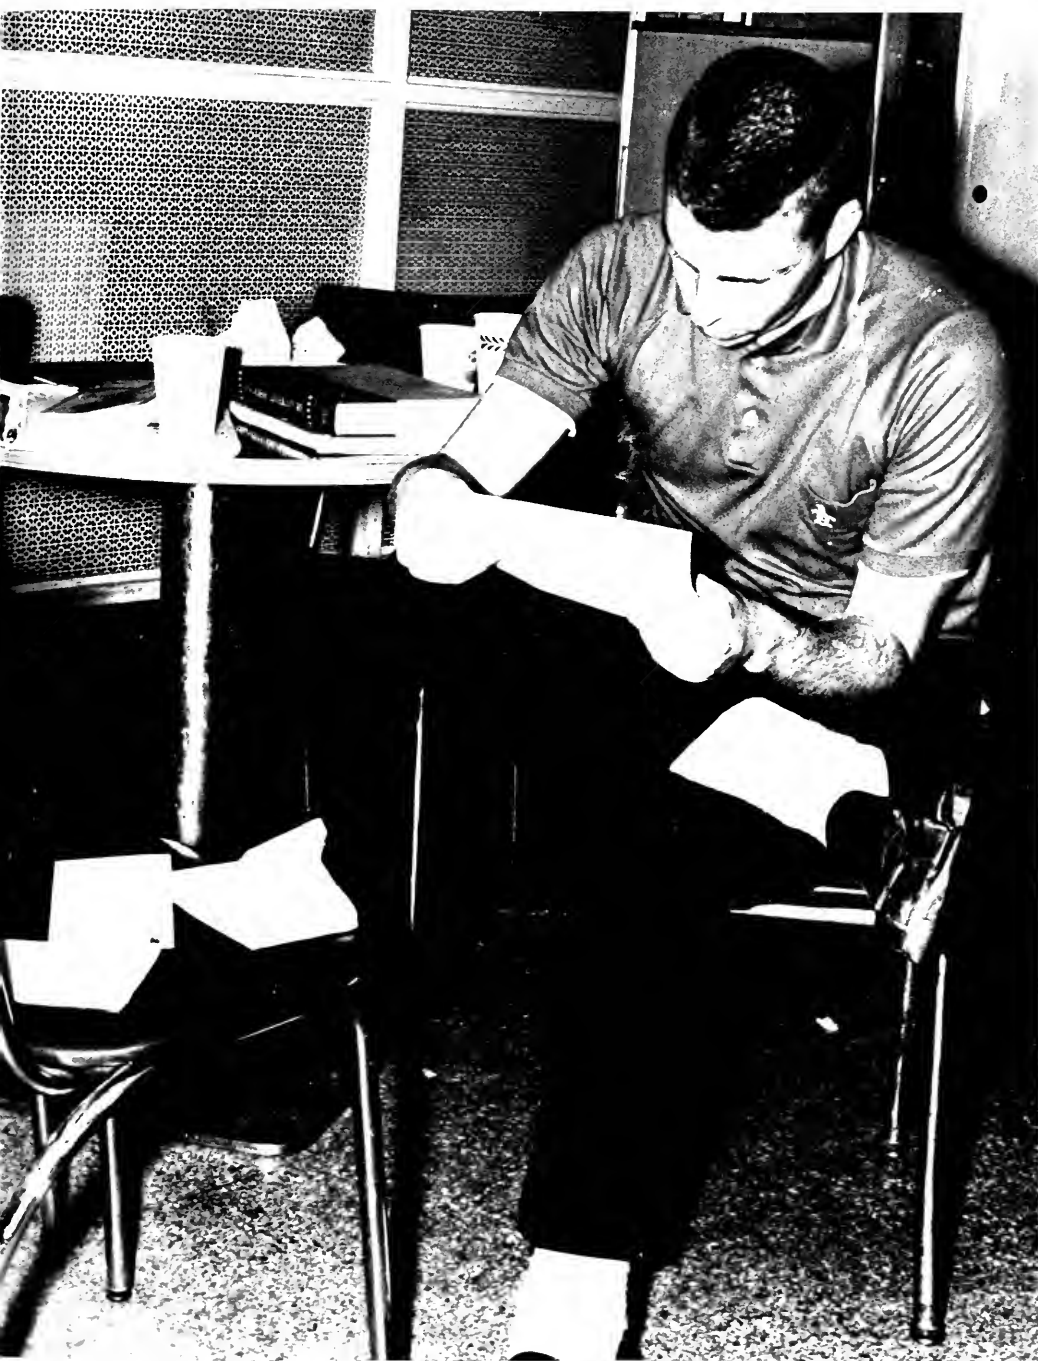

TIME FOR THOUGHT . . . a quiet walk in the rain . . . pensive moments remembering home . . . retrospect . . . thoughts for the future . . . special time for ourselves . . . and a time to reread special letters . . .

A certain amount of solitude is vital in the busy, hectic week. But the outstretched hand of friendship is always a welcome sight.

AWAKENING . . . renewed interest . . .
ideas take form . . . thoughts are crystallized . . . the prof. is finally getting through . . . understanding . . . new meanings . . . goals and ambitions take root . . .

Moments of discovery are never forgotten, and touch off more inquiring thoughts, and a chain reaction develops, and we call it learning.

HOPE . . . trust . . . each new day . . .
an opportunity . . . another chance
. . . a breathless moment . . . looking ahead . . . beyond . . . a prayer . . .

Both team members and spectators hold their breath, longing for a victory, during a tense moment on the soccer field.

Hope finds its place in the routine trip to the post office, or in a sudden and fervent longing, just as in the less frequent threat of a tropical storm. Above: Anxiety combined with action when a student safeguarded this car from Hurricane Dora.

INSPIRATION . . . the response to a challenge . . . someone who is respected . . . Faith-in-Life Week . . . the enrichment of a discussion group . . . motivation . . . encouragement . . . the dynamics of purpose . . .

The annual Faith-in-Life Week stimulated minds as never before with the presentation of modern trains of thought. Curious students flocked to the discussion groups, seeking answers and explanations. When the turmoil cleared, those who had opened their minds and hearts found new peace and understanding as they continued in their academic endeavors.

Above: Bishop James W. Henley, now a resident of Lakeland, is greeted by campus leaders on his first visit of the year to FSC.

DETERMINATION . . . perseverance
 . . . renewed vigor . . . dedication to a task . . . undaunted action . . . a mind made up . . . sometimes sheer stub- bornness . . . prompted by a purpose
 . . . driven by desire . . .

Whether taking an exam, rushing to supper, or striving for victory, today's students react independently and decisively to their personal motivations. Each realizes his own individuality, and aims for what he is convinced is relevant.

ENTHUSIASM . . . exuberance . . . intense loyalty . . . an excited cheerleader . . . a cheering crowd . . . pulling together . . . jumping to their feet . . . clapping . . . yelling . . . emotion at its peak . . .

Popular Prof. and Mrs. George Robinson perform a clever dance.

The enthusiasm of the Greeks adds to the spirit of the entire campus.

RELAXATION . . . spare time . . .
free moments . . . after an exam . . .
talking with friends . . . an afternoon at the pool . . . skiing . . . eight hours sleep . . . fraternity socials . . . C.T. 101
. . . hand after hand of bridge . . .

Easy-going, carefree minutes round out a full day. What could be nicer than having an hour with nothing to do? Each to his own, as some turn to bridge, others to the sun, and still others prefer to dance or talk.

HAPPINESS . . . infinite joy . . . delight . . . lots of mail . . . belonging . . . feeling important . . . a task well done . . . when everything goes right . . . a sorority song . . . a sparkle in the eye . . . the flicker of a smile . . . growing into a Great big smile . . .

It's so easy to smile, forgetting disappointments or problems. Then others can't help but join in, until laughter becomes part of the atmosphere at FSC.

COMPANIONSHIP . . . concern . . .
 understanding . . . a trusted friend
 . . . a fraternity brotherhood . . . an outstretched hand . . . a growing attachment . . . the sharing experience . . .

The attachments made in four years of college are strong and lasting ones. Friendships formed within the bonds of a fraternity, a roommate, that special someone—these are relationships that can't be erased with graduation.

ACCOMPLISHMENT . . . success . . .
 recognition . . . praise . . . doing it by yourself . . . the fruits of strenuous practice . . . the wealth of experience . . .
 overcoming the odds . . . a masterful performance . . . meeting the deadline
 . . . giving it the finishing touch . . .

Below: The academic procession illustrates the result of years of hard work and effort.

Florida Southern offers purposeful students the opportunity to improve their own interests and abilities. There is chance for expression and achievement in a variety of fields, ranging from drama to journalism.

Below: Achievement is reached in this scene from a Vagabond production.

Above: A rewarding moment as a fraternity gives its pin to its new pledge sweetheart.

FULFILLMENT . . . that ultimate achievement . . . complete satisfaction . . . the reality of a dream . . . a glance into infinite . . . seeing "face to face" . . . nearing the goal . . . one step further in the search for truth . . .

FULFILLMENT . . . Attaining Florida Southern's highest honor in recognition of scholastic achievement and extra-curricular activities, that of Honor Walk student, is Margaret Sharp. She was chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," is president of the Southernettes and Pi Gamma Mu, a member of Westminster Student Movement, Cap and Gown, S F E A, W S G A, and Inter-Faith Council. She is a history major from Lakeland.

Margaret Sharp is congratulated by President Thrift on being named Honor Walk Student for 1965.

LORNE GREENE

February 17, 1965

To the Staff
The Interlachen
Florida Southern College
Lakeland, Florida

Dear Staff:

What a difficult time I've been having trying to select the one, two, three in this beauty contest.

They all deserve first place, but a choice must be made and so with great reluctance I categorize them one, two three even though I think they are all beautiful young ladies.

My best wishes to every contestant.

Yours cordially,

Lorne Greene

Cheerleaders

The lively Moc cheerleaders in the Red and White, under the leadership of Sue Schirmer, displayed the spirit that was typical of the student body as a whole. Always hustling, constantly active, they worked as hard to keep school spirit at a lively tempo as the varsity squad did to bring home a victory.

Varsity Basketball

The Basketball Mocs had another fine season for 1964-65. It was one of many hard fought games, with only a few points and even fewer seconds determining the final outcome. A fine team spirit was maintained throughout the entire season due to the combined efforts of every man on the squad. The loss of Joel Ledlow, because of injuries, was felt, but returning lettermen Mike Huber and Bobby Bowman gave outstanding performances in every game. Coach Tom Greene had a bumper crop of outstanding varsity newcomers who proved their potential on the courts for Southern. Their hard knocks of experience should prove to be a great asset to next year's Mocs.

SOUTHERN'S SOCCER Mocs gave outstanding performances which resulted in a 5-4 won-lost record and a second place in the Florida Intercollegiate Conference. The most exciting games were played against the perennial champion booters of the University of Miami and Stetson University. The Mocs stomped the conference winners, Stetson, 4-1. Florida Southern baseball, under Coach Hal Smeltzly, has been the most consistent winner of all our varsity teams. Through the years big name powers such as Navy, Duke, Florida, Yale and others have fallen to the barrage of Moccasin bats and fast balls. In 1964 the Mocs handed nationally ranked FSU its first loss of the season and went on to finish second in the perennially tough FIC. Although losing eight men in 1964, three via pro contracts and five by graduation, the 1965 edition of the Mocs seems as strong as ever.

Coach Smeltzly, shooting for his sixth straight winning season, has counted heavily on veterans Ken Huebner, voted MVP in last year's FIC balloting, infielders Frank Oktavec, Doug Priester, and Don Sabatini, outfielders Bob Lee and Fred Mayer, and hurlers Bob Roadarmel and Bruce Aitken. An outstanding crop of newcomers, led by infielders Bill Mowbray, Steve Hockensmith and Nate Jones, and pitcher Charles Simmons square off the Moc attack.

Coach Roger Baer

Coach Chuck Anderson

A winning effort requires long hours of intense practice. During practice sessions, drills such as this run down must be rehearsed until they become second nature.

Bob Bowman, left, and Steve Hockensmith, above, display the Alpha and Omega of a put out—the sure-handed pick up at third and the decisive stretch at first.

Standing: Bill Ingram, Robert DeSear, Paul Shipley, Kurt Hoch, Jim Stewart, Howard Harvill, Dale Hamm, Craig Dye. Kneeling: Bobby Williams, coxswain.

The combined efforts of Coach Bill Daniels, above, and Captain Bill Ingram, right, gave FSC's crew the leadership necessary for a successful season.

Varsity Crew

Crew fans at Florida Southern witnessed another fine season from the Water Mocs under the direction of Coach Bill Daniels. Expert leadership came from the varsity stroke, Bill Ingram, who was also last year's Most Valuable Oarsman. Southern rowed against Purdue, Trinity, Tampa, and Jacksonville at the Second Annual Cypress Gardens Invitational plus several races on the home course on Lake Hollingsworth. With only one graduating senior, Robert DeSear, FSC's well-balanced and highly experienced crew can expect only greater achievements in coming seasons.

Skill, balance, and precision are the oarsmen's greatest assets.

Right: Bill Ingram shows it takes concentration to keep an even stroke.

Junior Varsity Crew

Southern's Baby Water Mocs again had an inexperienced crew in the tough Florida Conference. Through many long hours of work on the fundamentals of crew, under the direction of veteran oarsman Les Knight, the Junior varsity men have progressed into fine, accurate oarsmen. These men will be vying for seats in the varsity shell in the coming seasons.

Les Knight
Coach

The long walk from the boat house to the dock seems even longer after hours of practice on Lake Hollingsworth.

Varsity Golf

Many experienced players comprised Southern's 1965 varsity golf team, playing such outstanding teams as Ball State, University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, University of the South, Columbia University and many others. The linksmen also competed in the Miami Invitational Tournament and were hosts to the Florida Conference Championships including the FIC teams. They were under the direction of Mr. Hal Waters, in his second year as varsity golf coach. The Link Mocs had another fine season and look forward to an even better one next year.

Coach

Varsity Tennis

The netsmen of Florida Southern worked hard to prepare for another season in the always tough Florida Intercollegiate Conference. Tennis fans expect and get a fine team effort from these men who are so ably coached by Mr. Jim Bush. This year the tennis Mocs faced one of the most awesome seasons in the recent past. Through the combined efforts of the hardworking team that returned and the newcomers to Southern's courts, another FSC team was on its way to another successful year.

Intramural Champs

At the beginning of the intramural year Sigma Chi captured the men's volleyball title. Pi Kappa Alpha emerged football champs for the second consecutive year, by upsetting the unbeaten Roadrunners in an action packed championship game. In women's intramurals, the Independents took the first place softball title while a freshman team from Allan Spivey gained the title of basketball champions.

Intramural Sports

The Intramural Department stresses a strong "sports for everyone" campaign. These sports include football, volleyball, basketball, softball, horseshoes, tennis, and ping pong for the men, while the women engage in such sports as softball, basketball, volleyball, bowling, and powder puff football.

Rag tag football, one of the major sports, offers players the chance to show skills or the lack of them.

INTRAMURALS CONT.

The intramural games always generate a great deal of excitement, spirit, and rivalry, whether the object of the battle is a volleyball, a basketball, or a football.

Football is not limited only to the men, as Southern's young ladies go into action in the "tough" powder puff league.

Joan Kemp and Charley Matlock
Intramural Directors

Intramural Boards

The Intramural Boards function as the supervising power for all campus intramural activities, which are an integral part of student life at FSC. The boards are composed of representatives from each fraternity, sorority, and independent group which participates in the sports. The advisers are Miss Kemp and Coach Matlock of the athletic department.

DEDICATION

The rising of our new, modernistic campus is the result of vision—the vision of President Spivey and President Thrift, and the members of the Board of Trustees. But visions are fantasies without the man to put them into brick and mortar form. To this man, who has built from dreams in blueprint, who has devoted 24 years of his life to our College as a student, instructor and business manager, the staff of THE INTERLACHEN dedicates the 1965 edition.

DAVID L. READDICK

CHARLES TINSLEY THRIFT
PRESIDENT

Florida Southern has become one of the South's finer academic institutions, and much of the credit is due President Charles T. Thrift. He has traveled extensively, seeking strong faculty members, outstanding students, and funds for the growth of the College and all the while providing for the organization by which the College operates.

Rounding out their last year at Southern, the class of 1965 worked hard to leave their mark. For the first time in several years, commencement exercises and a banquet honored those seniors graduating in December. During the spring semester a dance was sponsored by the seniors. The gift they left as a tribute and a farewell to the college will be a reminder of the many contributions of the 1965 graduates, both individually and as a unit.

The Junior Class

OFFICERS

BOB McKNIGHT	President
JIM BERRY	Vice-President
SANDY RAILSBACK	Secretary-Treasurer

McKnight, Railsback, Berry.

The Junior Class started off the year by sponsoring an all-campus dance, with free refreshments served. The real fun (and work) came later on in the second semester, with the sponsorship of the class's second annual all-campus Talent Show. There was a great variety of entertainment, and prizes were given to the winners of each category. The proceeds from the show were donated to the E. T. Roux Library for the purchase of new books.

The Sophomore Class

OFFICERS

ELLIOTT GOODMAN President
BOB DRAVECKY Vice-President
MARY DALE COONLEY Secretary-Treasurer

Goodman, Coonley, Dravecky

At the beginning of every new year, the Sophomore Class sponsors Rat Week and Rat Court to help the Freshman Class adjust itself to college life. This year, the Class of 1967 had the freshmen wear beanies, and made them learn, by heart, the Alma Mater and the names of all campus buildings. For those uncooperative few a Rat Court was held, complete with trials, verdicts (of course, all were guilty), and the proper sentences. Rat Week of 1964 was very successful, and a good deal of fun. In addition to this annual event, the Sophomore Class sponsored several campus dances.

Shinnick, Mundy, Nichols.

The Freshman Class got off on the right foot as it began its academic career at FSC with an active year. During orientation week, they provided plenty of entertainment for the upperclassmen with a Talent Show. The sponsorship of several hootenannies and dances added to the spirit and fun of the class of '68. Their main project was the purchasing of a new robe for Miss Southern.
